Burns is Chipola's top prof

Computer Science professor Nancy Burns of Graceville has been named the Faculty/Administrator/Other Professional of the Year at Chipola College.

Burns recently completed 27 years at Chipola, where she teaches various computer science courses. She serves on numerous college committees including Curriculum, and Catalog and Schedule of Courses. She also is a member of the Association of Florida Colleges. In 1997, Burns was chosen by her colleagues to receive the Kirkland Award for Excellence in Teaching.

Her fellow professor Vikki Milton, says, "Nancy's soft spoken manner is well received by her students and colleagues. No matter how busy, she is always willing to stop and talk with a student or fellow employee. We can count on her to shed a positive light on any situation. She loves the field of technology and she loves Chipola."

Burns was a leader in the recent revision of the college's Associate in Science (A.S) information technology programs and serves as an adviser to students enrolled in the programs. Her supervisor Dr. Jim Froh says, "Students are impressed with her ability to have the classes relate to real work experience. Nancy was there throughout the implementation of the new technology curriculum. Her dedication to getting it right for the students is what truly makes the difference."

A native of Houston, TX, Burns earned bachelor's degrees from both the University of Houston and Troy University. She
