Executive coach to address Chipola honors group

Executive coach Lori Day, of New Day Solutions, Inc., will address the Chipola College Honors Program, Wednesday, March 17, at 1 p.m., in Jackson Lecture Hall. The public is invited to attend.

Her presentation is entitled, "Take Your Choice." Lori says, "Face it - life is not perfect, predictable or easy. You have a choice. Ride in the passenger seat or grip the wheel, hold on and cross the finish line with a trail of victory smoke." The executive coach explains, "Where you are right now is a result of choices you have already made. And through life, the stakes, consequences and rewards of those choices get greater and greater. What choices will you take to write your story? Will it be the safe route or the wildest ride of your life?"

Day will talk about the difference between making and taking choices, the emotional importance of that difference, and the substantial impact these choices have on the future.

Day is a 25-year financial services leader turned executive coach. She brings a diverse level of experience in sales, operations, risk management, organizational design, strategic planning and leadership development to her clients. During her corporate career, she enjoyed many successes coaching individuals and developing teams across multiple cultures, time zones, and disciplines.

Day served as Senior Vice President for Bank of America. She was Assistant Vice-President for Merrill Lynch. After years as an executive, Day created her own company, New Day Solutions, Inc., to inspire others to have a better work and family life. Lori is a wife and mother to four children and knows what it's like to climb the corporate ladder in a skirt.

She is the wife of Chipola alumnus David Vaughn, a native of Marianna.

Violinist to perform for Chipola Artist Series

Individual tickets go on sale March for violinist Sarah Geller, the final offering of the 2009-10 Chipola Artist Series.

Violinist Sarah Geller and pianist Cheryl Tschanz will perform their Souvenirs program in the Chipola Theater, Thursday, March 18, at 7 p.m.

From the triumphant opening of Mozart's Sonata in Bb Major, to the last notes of Ginastera's fiery and rhapsodic Pampeana No. 1, Souvenirs captures the rhythmic and passionate textures of Latin America, Paul Schoenfield's sultry and jazzy "Four Souvenirs," and the simple and refined beauty of three pieces by Lili Boulanger.

Described as "a consummate artist performing with convincing vigor and passion," Geller has performed to critical acclaim in many prestigious venues, including Carnegie Hall. Geller drew capacity and standing room-only audiences with performances on the Gainesville Pro Musica Series in Georgia and the Strad for Lunch Series in New York City. Dedicated to the education of the next generation, Geller is also in high demand as a teacher in her hometown of New York City and beyond.

Pianist Cheryl Tschanz is a soloist, chamber musician, and private instructor who serves on the faculty at Florida Southern College. Tschanz holds numerous international competition prizes and was the first recipient of the prestigious Thayer Fellowship.

Having collaborated together since 1998, Geller and Tschanz bring a unique and dynamic quality to the stage, probing the depths of a composer's colors and message to form multiple layers of communication with each audience member.

Tickets may be purchased in Chipola Business Office, or by phone at 850-718-2220, with major credit cards accepted. Tickets also will be on sale the night of the show at 6:30 p.m. in the theatre box office.

Tickets are $12 for adults, $8 for ages 18 and under, and $4 for Chipola students with ID.

For ticket information, call the Chipola Business Office at 850-718-2220.
