Health Sciences stages emergency response scenario for faculty

The campus-wide faculty meeting was recently hosted by the School of Health Sciences. The Faculty and Staff of the Chipola Nursing Program displayed their colors of pink and gray with t-shirts specially designed for the Breast Cancer Awareness Campaign. Mrs. Jennifer Ham, Staff Assistant, designed the t-shirts and added the "Fight Like a Girl" slogan. A beautiful, pink specialty wreath was created and donated to the School of Health Sciences by Mrs. Martha DeWitt, Owner of Decorated Doors, www.etsy.com/shop/decorateddoors.

The Emergency Medical Services program provided a mock scenario of an acute coronary syndrome. The simulated experience was initiated with a faculty member feigning chest pain and receiving transport to the ambulance simulator for further emergent care and treatment. The paramedic students were successful in recognizing a lethal cardiac dysrhythmia and providing subsequent life-saving practices.
