Apply now for Term "C" classes

Chipola College will offer a variety of courses during Term C which begins Oct. 14. Registration is Thursday, Oct. 13, from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Term C courses are offered in a condensed format of approximately seven weeks compared to the traditional 15-week semester. Late registration is Friday, October 14, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Term C is open to new students who have never enrolled at Chipola. Current students also are welcome to add Term C courses to their existing schedules.

Dr. Sarah Clemmons, senior vice president of instruction, says, "Term C is also a great time for sophomores to request a graduation check. This will help students make sure they are taking the courses required to transfer into an upper level program at Chipola's open-door policy guarantees acceptance to any student with a standard high school diploma or its equivalent. Prospective students should complete a college application, available in the Office of Admissions, or online at www.chipola.edu. Students must provide an official high school or college transcript. Students should visit an academic advisor in the Student Services building to register.

Chipola has expanded its offerings to include more than 40 individual programs. Chipola offers the Associate in Arts (AA) Degree for students who plan to complete their first two years of college work and then transfer to a four year program at Chipola or another college. Academic plans for specific majors are available on the college website at www.chipola.edu.

The college offers 10 Bachelor of Science (BS) degree programs, including: Business Administration with Concentrations in Accounting and Management, English Education, Elementary Education, Exceptional Student Education, Mathematics Education (5-9 or 6-12), Science Education (5-9 or 6-12), and an RN to BSN in Nursing. The Educator Preparation Institute (EPI) offers Teacher Certification for those with a bachelor's degree in a non-teaching field.

For information about enrolling at Chipola, call the Admissions Office at 850-718-2311, or visit www.chipola.edu

Small business seminars set at Chipola

Chipola College will offer a small business seminar entitled, "How to Write a Business Plan," Friday, Oct. 7.

Participants will learn to create an impressive, professional business plan, review a business software program and walk through the business plan process.

The seminar will meet from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Three more seminars are upcoming: "Starting Your Own Restaurant Business" is Oct. 21; Introduction to 21st Century Marketing is Nov. 4 and Marketing on the Internet and Using Social Media is Dec. 2.

The workshops will meet in Room M-108 of the Business and Technology building. Cost of each seminar is $30.

Chipola athletes start new year with special orientation

The Chipola College Athletic Department recently hosted the first-ever Chipola Experience, an orientation for student-athletes designed to acquaint them with the college environment and to help them make a positive start.

Chipola athletic director Dr. Dale O'Daniel welcomed the group and introduced the guest speakers. Assistant athletic director Joc Calloway presented sessions entitled, "Focus on Academics" and "Transition from Academics to Integrity."

Chipola science professor Dr. David Hilton gave a "Starting Off Right" talk to the group. Bonnie Smith, director of the Academic Center of Excellence (ACE), explained the tutoring and academic support services available in the college ACE lab.

Breakout Sessions included: Dr. David Hilton with "What Class is This?" and English professor Rachel West on "Teacher Interaction."

A general assembly meeting covered the rules and responsibilities of dormitory life. Speakers included assistant baseball coach Chris Hutcheson, residence hall manager Dianne Green and the college security officer Sgt. Sammy Efurud.

Network Coordinator Matt White and

Technical Support Associate Glenda Bethel offered a Computer Orientation for freshmen. The Chipola Experience concluded with a reception and social in the college cafeteria.

Dr. O'Daniel said, "The Chipola Athletic Department is deeply appreciative of the efforts of the people who put this experience together. Special thanks to assistant athletic director Joc Calloway and coach Dr. David Hilton for their leadership in developing this program."

We feel the experience is something that our student-athletes will utilize to understand the history and traditions of Chipola athletics and also the academic requirements of Chipola College."

Some 100 student-athletes represent Chipola in five sports: men's and women's basketball, men's baseball, women's softball and women's cross country. The college also has an award-winning cheerleader program.

The majority of the college's student-athletes live in the college residence hall and many are away from home for the first time.

Chipola College is part of the Florida College System (FCS) formerly known as the Community College System. Many of the 28 colleges in the FCS including Chipola now offer bachelor's degrees and are designated as state colleges. For the purpose of athletics, Chipola is still classified as a two-year community college as student athletes are allowed only two years of eligibility in any sport.

Chipola student wins Arts poster contest

Campbellton artist and Chipola College student Jamey S. Williams submitted the winning design for the 7th Annual Sunday Afternoon with the Arts poster contest. Her design features an eye-catching sunflower that warmly welcomes visitors to the Exhibit Reception on Nov. 6.

Williams, a native of Birmingham, studied art history and art education at the University of Alabama and is currently pursuing courses at Chipola to complete her degree. Williams plans to be on hand at the annual event.

William's winning poster fetched a prize of $100 and will be on display to help promote the event. A limited number of posters will be printed by The UPS Store™, a business partner for the fall event.

Six entries were submitted by artists from Jackson and surrounding counties. All entries will be on display at the Exhibit Reception at the Chipola Arts Center on Nov. 6 from 1 to 5 p.m.

Altha artist Jamie Godwin's intriguing pen, ink and pencil drawing entitled, "Circled" was one of the entries. Julia Hodges of Marianna chose pen, pencil and markers to illustrate her almost mystical creation of a woman with long strands of hair drawing the viewer into the image.

Carol Yoder of Grand Ridge deviated from her traditional painting style to create vibrant, sweeping colors in acrylic paint on a black background.

Marianna artist Suzanne Payne submitted a crisp, colorful computer graphic designed poster. Tina Van Fleet, Marianna, was the first artist to enter. Her "supernatural" image called artists to "get the ball rolling" for the contest.

The 2011 Sunday Afternoon with the Arts Poster Contest sponsored by The Artists Guild of Northwest Florida, Inc., private donations and The UPS Store™ marks the beginning of what organizers hope will be a new tradition for the annual event.

Information about the Sunday Afternoon with the Arts can be found on the Fine Arts Department page at www.chipola.edu

Local players join Chipola softball squad

The Chipola College Lady Indian softball team features five local players who are expected to make a big impact this season.

Kristen Allen is a freshman outfielder from Monroe High School in Chattahoochee. According to Chipola coach Belinda Hendrix, the 5'5" Allen fits the mold of a typical Chipola outfielder. "She is a speedy slapper who covers a lot of ground. She shows a lot of potential and will be a nice addition to our team," Hendrix says.

Freshman Eron Milton is a big 5'10" pitcher from Marianna High School. Hendrix says, "Eron is a power pitcher coming off an injury that kept her on the sidelines her senior year but will be expected to make an immediate impact when she is 100 percent healthy."

Freshman Cayce Griffin is another Marianna High product. According to Hendrix, the 5'7" Griffin is a "Strong defensive catcher who is projected to be in the starting lineup."

Karissa Childs is a right-handed hurler from Sneads High. Hendrix says, she "Considers Childs a spinner with a lot of movement. She has exceptional composure on the mound and immense control of her pitches. She will generate a lot of ground balls and with the right defensive support, she will be very successful here."

Erin Solger is a right-handed infielder from Chipley High. Coach Hendrix says, "Erin has a great work ethic on and off the field. She will compete for a spot on the left side of the infield, either 3rd base or short stop."

In addition to the five locals, six more players hail from Florida, including Chandler Seay of Tallahassee, Lindsey Hamlin of Mayo, Brittany Bruns of St. Cloud, Mya Anderson of Tampa, Hawley Ill of Longwood and Chelsey Steedly of Zolfo Springs.

Three Texans—Ebony Wright, Stephanie Garrels and Jasmine Tanksley—also have joined the Lady Indians this season. Two players—Hayley Parker and Michelle Hester—both come from Nettleton, Mississippi. Brittany Sinkfield is the lone player from the state of Georgia. Two international players round out the roster: Eva Voortman of the Netherlands and Sayumi Akamine from Brazil.

Last year's Chipola team finished as co-champion of the Panhandle Conference and earned a berth in the FSCAA State Tournament.

The Lady Indians host the Halloween Bash, Oct. 21-22 at the Chipola field. Chipola will play at several Division 1 universities this Fall, including games at Auburn, UF, FSU, LSU, Troy and Southern MS.
