Voices of Lee to perform for Artist Series - Oct. 4

The Chipola College Artist Series will present the a cappella group Voices of Lee, Friday, Oct. 4 in the Center for the Arts.

The 16-member vocal ensemble from Lee University in Cleveland, TN, performs at a variety of venues across the country.

Excellence in harmony, spirit, and performance depicts the lush musical style of The Voices of Lee. Since their debut in September ‘94, their intense musical focus has captivated audiences worldwide. Directed by Danny Murray, the group is characterized by their unique variety of lush vocal harmonies, high-energy patriotic numbers, fun-filled audience participation, as well as heart-felt gospel favorites. For information, visit www.voicesoflee.com.

Tickets are $14 for adults, $10 for children under 18, with special pricing for Chipola students and employees.

Online tickets are available now at www.chipola.edu. Tickets may be printed at home, or with an order confirmation, will-call tickets will be available at the box office the night of the show. Tickets also are available for purchase at the Center for the Arts Box Office with hours Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Friday, from 9 a.m. to noon. The Box Office is also open one hour prior the event.

The Artist Series continues Jan. 16, 2014, with concert harpist Anna Maria Medieta presenting the passionate music of the Argentine Tango and Spanish Flamenco complete with Latin instruments and flamenco dancers.

The Golden Dragon Acrobats will amaze audiences with their breathtaking skill and spellbinding beauty on April 1, 2014. Call 850-718-2420 or visit www.chipola.edu/fine-and-performing-arts for more information.

Banned books week: Celebrating the freedom to read

The Chipola College Library marked Banned Books Week, Sept. 22-28. The annual event celebrates the freedom to read. Banned Books Week brings together the entire book community—librarians, booksellers, publishers, journalists, teachers, and readers of all types—in shared support of the freedom to seek and to express ideas, even those some consider unorthodox or unpopular.

The books featured during Banned Books Week have all been targeted with removal or restrictions in libraries and schools. While books have been and continue to be banned, part of the Banned Books Week celebration is the fact that, in a majority of cases, the books have remained available. This happens only thanks to the efforts of librarians, teachers, students, and community members who stand up and speak out for the freedom to read.

The American Library Association (ALA) compiles lists of challenged books in order to inform the public about censorship efforts that affect libraries and schools. The ALA condemns censorship and works to ensure free access to information.

A few titles that have been challenged or banned are “To Kill a Mockingbird,” the “Hunger Games,” “Twilight,” “Harry Potter,” “The Kite Runner,” “Adventures of Huckleberry Finn” and “Beloved.”

Florida Lottery sponsors fall festival

The Florida Lottery Bright Futures program recently sponsored the Chipola Fall Festival to welcome Bright Futures scholarship recipients and to celebrate the Lottery’s 25-year history of supporting education.

Lottery officials provided free t-shirts and premium door prizes to students. David Bishop, Deputy Secretary of the Lottery, addressed the crowd of several hundred.

Bright Futures was created in 1997 by the Florida Legislature to assist students in pursuing post-secondary educational and career goals. Bright Futures scholarships are awarded to Florida high school graduates based on high academic achievement.

Since the program’s inception, the Florida Lottery has contributed more than $3.9 billion to send more than 600,000 students to college. To date, more than 5,000 Bright Futures scholarships have been awarded to students attending Chipola College, totaling more than $8 million.
