

Prepare now for Fall registration at CJC

Application deadline for new students planning to enroll in Fall 2003 classes at Chipola Junior College is Aug. 6.

Regular returning student registration and new student testing is Aug. 20. New student registration is Aug. 21 and 22, with classes beginning Aug. 25.

Applications are available in the CJC Registration office, or online at www.chipola.edu. Chipola's open-door policy guarantees acceptance to all students with a high school diploma. Testing is required to enroll in certain academic courses.

Chipola offers hundreds of college credit courses during the day and evening, and also through independent study. The college offers the Associate in Arts (AA) degree, a two-year program that guarantees acceptance to Florida's 10 public universities.

Chipola also offers several Associate in Science (AS) and Workforce Development programs that provide training for high wage jobs.

Chipola's University Center provides opportunities for students to pursue a bachelor's degree and advanced degrees on the CJC campus.

Financial aid is available to those who qualify and all students are advised to complete the application online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. Chipola will host a Financial Aid workshop for prospective students and their parents on Tuesday, Aug. 12, from 5:30 to 7 p.m., in the Continuing Education Conference Center. No reservations are necessary.

For more information call 718-2293, or visit CJC on the web at www.chipola.edu

Chipola offers courses for busy people

Chipola officials are working to make college more accessible to busy people. According to student surveys, 76 percent of Chipola students work at least part-time while attending college. And while most students prefer morning classes, nearly a quarter of those surveyed said they would like evening and afternoon classes.

Other factors such as affordable child care and travel expenses have been reported as obstacles to attending college. In response to these and other issues, college faculty members have developed a number of independent study and online courses for students who cannot attend traditional classes. These alternative format classes allow students to set their own study hours and learn according to their individual schedules.

Before enrolling, students must meet with a counselor and attend an orientation session. Some trips to the college are usually required for tests and a final exam.

When videotapes are to be used with a course, they may be viewed or checked out at the library. Independent Study classes carry an additional charge of $25 per semester hour.

Students in online courses interact with instructors via the Internet, meeting occasionally to take tests. A chat room, CD-ROM and e-mail will be used to communicate with the instructor. Online students should possess computer/internet skills and should be able to manage effectively their academic and personal schedules.

For a complete list of course offerings see the Chipola Yearly Schedule of Classes, or visit CJC on the web at www.chipola.edu.
