CJC student learns in Americorps program

Chipola sophomore Jonathan Basford is one of the first CJC students ever to participate in the Federal Americorps program.

During most of 2002, Basford worked as a tour guide and biologist's assistant in the Florida Caverns State Park.

Basford, who played the lead roles in Chipola's "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat," "Charlie Brown" and "Foot-loose," served as a guide on special tours of the Caverns on week-ends and evenings. He was able to put his acting skills to good use when he donned the period uniforms of the Civilian Conservation Corps workers who discovered the caves in the 1920's.

His other work at the park included clearing trails and assisting biologist Mark Ludlow in exotic plant eradication and working with assistant park manager Brian Fugate.

Basford, who had never toured the caves prior to his Americorps job, said he especially enjoyed meeting new people and learning about the state park system.
