Hilton and Gardner win Kirkland Award

Natural science professor Dr. David Hilton and automotive assistant professor John Gardner were chosen by their peers to receive the 2007 Kirkland Award for Excellence in Teaching.

Hilton has taught science courses at Chipola since 1997 and has served as academic adviser for student athletes. He recently developed a new science course to provide students with academic knowledge to appreciate and preserve the natural environment.

The student body selected him as Teacher of the Year and for the Faculty Distinguished Service Award. He is a member of the Chipola Faculty Association and the Chipola Council of Educators.

Hilton has served on several committees including: Budget Review and Development, Marketing and Recruitment, Intercollegiate Athletics, Alumni/Homecoming, Planning and Accountability and the Governance Council. He has served as faculty sponsor for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and served as Chipola Partner at Cottondale High School.

An anonymous student said of Dr. Hilton, "When you see Dr. Hilton lecturing, teaching, demonstrating and evaluating, you can look around the room and see the "light bulb come on" in the eyes of the young men and young women in his classes."

Hilton earned a Doctor of Chiropractic from Texas Chiropractic College.

John Gardner implemented a computerized technology curriculum in Chipola's automotive program soon after he began work at the college in 2000. The new curriculum and other improvements helped lead to NATEF certification of the program. Graduates of the program have been hired by BMW, Mercedes and Volkswagen and local dealers.

An anonymous student said of Gardner, "He really explains until students gain understanding."

Gardner has helped implement Chipola's innovative curriculum at 26 institutions in Florida. The Chipola Automotive program was honored at the Florida Association for Career Technical Education (FACTE) conference, and was a runner-up in the national Bellwether award in the workforce development category.

Gardner is a Certified Master Automobile Technician with certifications from General Motors, Chevrolet, and the National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence.

The Kirkland Award was established by brothers—J. R. Kirkland and David Kirkland—in honor of their parents Carolyn and the late Willis Kirkland of Marianna. The award provides $1,000 to the annual recipient.
