Chipola hoops season opens on election day

The Chipola College Indians open the 2004 basketball season on Election Day (Nov. 2) with a 7:30 p.m. home game against PyExpress, a club team from Tallahassee made up of former Division 1 players.

The game is billed as Fan Appreciation Night with free admission for everyone. Fans will have the chance to meet the Indians and coaches in the Chipola Appreciation Club Hospitality Room immediately following the game.

The Chipola men's and women's squads host a big weekend of basketball Nov. 5 and 6 in the Milton H. Johnson Classic. The Lady Indians play Middle Georgia at 5 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 5 and Clinton College at 4 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 6. The Indians play Shelton State at 7 p.m., Friday, and South Georgia Tech at 6 p.m., Saturday.

The Indians are the defending State Champions and Panhandle Conference Champions coming off an outstanding 32-5 season that ended with a sixth place finish at the national tournament.

Chipola enters the season with a new coach and young squad of 11 freshmen and four sophomores. Only three players return from last season: Brent Crews and redshirts Victor Gomez and Truman Montgomery. First year head coach Greg Heiar will look to the returning trio to provide leadership and stability as this year's team grows and improves.

Crews played in 33 games last season. Coach Heiar said, "We will look to him for defense, and he will be relied upon to score." Crews is recovering from foot surgery that sidelined him during the first eight weeks of practice and preseason.

Red-shirt freshman Victor Gomez will be counted on for leadership, scoring, and rebounding. Truman Montgomery, a red-shirt freshman from Graceville, Florida, will provide defense and stability off the bench. Heiar said, "What we lack in experience, we make up for with plenty of talent."

One of the team's hottest recruits is Mario Boggan, a 6'8, 260 pound transfer from the University of Florida.

President earns excellent evaluation

The Chipola College District Board of Trustees approved an excellent evaluation of college president Dr. Gene Prough during the board's regular monthly meeting, Oct. 26.

All nine board members said that Prough satisfactorily performed or met all four objectives listed on the evaluation. In a summary of the trustees' comments, board attorney Gerald Holley stated, "Dr. Prough received an excellent evaluation and is to be commended for a job well done."

Trustees listed some of Prough's strengths as: "progressive; tireless worker on behalf of the college; has a positive vision for the college; surrounds himself with knowledgeable and caring educators; and views his duties as a mission, not just a job."

Cheerleaders announce Extravaganza

The 2004-05 Chipola College cheerleaders are busy preparing for the upcoming basketball season which begins Nov. 2.

The squad's annual Extravaganza Cheerleader Competition is set for Saturday, January 22, 2005. Coach Geraldine DeFelix will be sending registration and routine requirements to area cheerleader squads at the middle, junior varsity, varsity, and all-star levels. Extravaganza information also is available at: www.chipola.edu by selecting "cheerleaders" on the "athletics" page.

Individual competitions will be held at all levels. If a cheerleader's squad does not participate, he or she may still com-

Lady Indians open hoops season Friday

The Chipola Lady Indians open their season Friday, Nov. 5 in the Milton H. Johnson Classic. The Lady Indians play Middle Georgia at 5 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 5 and Clinton College at 4 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 6. Chipola's men's team plays at 7 p.m. Friday and at 6 p.m. on Saturday.

Head coach David Lane begins his second season at the helm of the women's program after leading the Lady Indians to the quarterfinals of the state tournament last year to finish with a 22-9 record.

Lane has big expectations for his Lady Indians this season. "I am extremely excited about this year's squad. As always, our goal is to win a national championship. In order to do this we must work hard to establish ourselves as a team that plays defense and rebounds. We are taking strides in that direction, but still have a long way to go. Once we get there, success will follow," Lane said.

Coach Lane will be looking for new leaders to replace 1st Team All-Panhandle center Kristina Andjelkovic (now at Arkansas) and NJCAA All-American guard Reggie Maddox (now at Clemson University). Lane said, "Their ability and leadership will be tough to replace." But the Lady Indians have three important players back from last year's successful team in point guard Tojalynn Atmore, forward Ashley Perry, and 2nd Team All-Panhandle center Tamika Jackson. "All three will be called upon to step and provide leadership on and off the court," Lane said.

Elaine McCants and Cherish Tom are two transfers whose experience will be welcomed. Both will need to score to help this team succeed.

"With eight freshman on the roster, I expect some rough times early," Lane said.

"The sooner that these eight make the adjustment from high school to college basketball the sooner we'll be successful." Leading the freshmen class are Nacole Stock, Ta'Yani Clark, Erica Smith, Tashera Chisolm and Shawnta Pope. Pope is expected to help with rebounding and scoring on the frontline. Stock, Clark, Smith, and Chisolm will bring a level of athleticism to the backcourt that Chipola lacked last year. Laura Cowling, Chinata Nesbit, Parris Hargrove, and Monica King will work to earn playing time on a talented squad.

Coach Lane expects more than just winning from his team. "Chipola athletics receives a great deal of support from the faculty and administration as well as the community. With this support it is my goal to have a team of student-athletes that will be leaders on the court, in the classroom, and in the community," Lane said.

Boggan is expected to provide big game experience and to help with rebounding and scoring.

Brazilian Anderson "Moseo" Ferreira is Chipola's tallest player at 6'9, 230 pounds. He transferred from Lamar Community College. He will supply scoring and rebounding for this year's team. Heiar said, "We expect big things from Mario and Moseo. They will be a tough matchup for opposing teams this season."

Gerard Jackson, a 6'5, 235 pound freshman transfer from Bethune-Cookman College, should have an immediate impact this year. Heiar said, "His strength and versatility should cause big problems for opposing defenses."

Coach Heiar expects all eight newcomers to play a key role in the success of this year's team. "Stefhon Hannah, Michael Taylor, and Akeem Hemingway will be instrumental in directing the Indian offense. High school teammates Demetrius Evans and Ryne Hamblet, Pawel Malesa, and Jimmy Sloss all will be fighting for playing time at the wing position. Fred Bellamy of Cottondale will add an important local element to the Chipola squad," Heiar said.

The first year head coach has a big vision for his athletic program. "Our goal is to not only win championships, but also to develop young men. We have a proven system, reliable staff, and talented group of athletes working toward a common goal. Our success will depend largely upon our leadership, chemistry, and buying into the team concept. If we continue to build on our work ethic, play with enthusiasm, and make intelligent decisions, we will have another remarkable year," Heiar said.

Artist Series presents Icarus “Manhattan Cabaret”

The Chipola College Artist Series will present “A Manhattan Cabaret,” by Icarus Musicworks of New York, Nov. 15, at 7 p.m. The performance originally scheduled for September was rescheduled due to Hurricane Ivan.

Described as a vivacious concert in cabaret form, A Manhattan Cabaret is a witty, intimate and engaging show of torch songs, ballads, rousing anthems, songs to warm the heart, lift the spirits and raise the roof. Selections from Rodgers and Hart, Gershwin, Gertrude Stein, William Balcom and more plus a generous helping of Broadway showstoppers as well as award-winning favorites from the theater, vintage and contemporary cabaret classics, jazz improvisation and a touch of grand concert hall magic.

Icarus Musicworks features bass baritone John Cimino, who delighted Chipola audiences last year with selections from Man of La Mancha and Porgy and Bess last season. Principal artists include Broadway and Cabaret soprano, Dianne Legro and percussionist Richard Albagli, a frequent guest performer at the Manhattan

School of Music and the Eastman Conservatory. Concert flutist Donna Wissinger makes a cameo appearance, and premier pianist Jon Klibonoff who has played mainstages worldwide rounds out the evening with classical virtuosity and Cabaret flair.

Two other big events are scheduled for the 2004-05 season. “A Trumpeter’s Dream” is set for Jan. 18, 2005. The Cashore Marionettes bring their internationally-acclaimed art of puppetry to the Chipola stage, Feb. 7, 2005.

The Artist Series is funded through Chipola’s Performing Arts Fund, with grants from the National Endowment for the Arts, the Southern Arts Federation, the Florida Division of Cultural Affairs, the Chipola Regional Arts Association, corporate donors, and through ticket sales.

Individual tickets—$12 for adults and $8 for ages 18 and under—go on sale Nov. 8 in the college Business Office. Tickets for the annual Christmas Dinners also go on sale Nov. 8.

For ticket information, call 718-2220.

Following the meeting, Prough said, “I love this college and I enjoy working to improve the opportunities for the students of our area. Our students and employees make this one of the finest community colleges in the country.”

Prough became Chipola’s ninth president in October of 2002. He served as executive vice president of the college from 1997 to 2002. Prough first came to Chipola as Director of Vocational Education in 1994. During the past decade Prough has provided leadership that enabled the college to obtain more than $17 million in building projects and more than $12 million in federal and state grants.

Under his leadership, the Foundation has grown from $2 million to more than $10 million. Endowments and scholarships in the Foundation provide some $600,000 annually in direct aid to students.

Prough, a 1968 graduate of Chipola, has worked to enhance the academic programs of the college which now include bachelor’s degrees in Secondary Science Education and Secondary Mathematics Education.

The president’s three-year rolling contract runs through November of 2006 and will be addressed at the November board meeting.

Student Activities*

CUDOS. Mathematics professor Irma Cruz-White has been invited to participate in the Project/NEXt/Young Mathematician's Network Poster Session in Atlanta in Jan. 2005.

She will present a project entitled, "TOPOLOGY OF SPIRAL WAVES IN EXCITABLE MEDIA," . According the abstract of the project, waves of excitation occur naturally in biological, chemical and physical systems. Examples of excitable media include biological media, including heart muscle and nerve tissue, and chemical media.

Cruz-White is an instructor in Chipola's Bachelor's Degree program in Secondary Mathematics Education. She earned a Ph.D. in Mathematics from Florida State University.

MEAL PLANS AVAILABLE. The Chipola College Cafeteria now offers Meal Plans for students and employees.

The business office will sell monthly meal tickets beginning Oct. 18 and thereafter at least one week prior to the beginning of each month. The cafeteria will begin accepting meal cards Nov. 1.

A monthly breakfast card, good for 20 (all you care to eat) meals is $4 per meal or $80 per month. Lunch cards—good for 20 (limited consumption) meals—is $5 per meal or $100 per month

Meal cards will carry-over for no more than two months from the date of purchase.

The plan is being made available through a partnership between Jackson Hospital/Morrison Health Care and the Chipola Culinary Management program.

UNITED WAY. Chipola and FACC invite you to help local families through a gift to United Way.

Chipola's 2004 goal is $1,111.11. That's only $5.55 from each of Chipola's 200 employees. For the price of one lunch, you can make a big difference to a family in need. You may want to give more, but please consider giving at least $5.55.

United Way gifts stay at home to help people in your community. You can also designate your gift to your favorite charity in your home county.

Call Bryan Craven at Ext. 2264 to make a one-time donation or to sign up for payroll deduction.

Thanks to you it's working
Alice Pendergrass, FACC president
Bryan Craven, UW Helper

CURIOUS/CONFUSED RE. CREDIT. Come to PBL on Wednesday, Nov. 3 at 10 a.m. in M201 to find out what adults should know about keeping good credit.
