Chipola Artist Series presents 'An Appalachian Christmas'

The Chipola Artist Series presents "An Appalachian Christmas," performed by the Atlanta Pops Orchestra, Monday, Dec. 8.

Individual tickets—$12 for adults and $8 for ages 18 and under—go on sale Nov. 24 at the Chipola Business Office.

Perfect for the holiday season, "An Appalachian Christmas" creates the feeling of a small community at Christmas time with a diverse program including traditional and not so traditional holiday favorites ranging from "The 12 Days of Christmas," "Little Drummer Boy," "In Dulci Jubilo," "Deck the Halls," and music from the Appalachian region. Audience members are invited to come early and hear the brass section playing in the lobby at 6:30 p.m. The audience will join in with some surprises toward the end of the show.

Much of the music enjoyed in the U.S. at Christmas time originated in the Appalachians or was brought over from Ireland, Scotland and England and became tradition here.

Special guests for the program will be the popular Harp – Flute duet Gentle Rain. Rich Jones and Christine Drescher will be featured prominently in the concert with renditions of "Greensleeves," "Deck The Halls" and "The Holly and The Ivy." They will be joined on other Christmas favorites by Dulcimer player and percussionist Scott Douglas.

The program also will include "The Little Drummer Boy" arranged as a Bolero and two suites of familiar Appalachian tunes "Barbara Allen," "How Firm a Foundation," and "Shenandoah."

Two more exciting performances will be scheduled as part of the 2008-09 Chipola Artist Series. "The Music at the Crossroads" presented by Celtic Crossroads will have audiences enjoying St. Patrick's Day a bit early on Jan. 26. Celtic Crossroads is critically-acclaimed as one of the best live music concerts to come from Ireland in over 20 years. This magical display of music incorporates seven world-class musicians, playing an array of both traditional and non-traditional instruments on stage, creating an unforgettable musical experience.

Christine Yoshikawa, classical pianist, will perform March 24. The Canadian pianist has enjoyed a multi-faceted international career performing as soloist with orchestras, recitalist, chamber musician, and teaching masterclasses throughout North America, Europe, and Asia. She is on the Roster of Recording Artists for Eroica Classical Recordings and serves on faculty at Chipola College.

The Chipola Artist Series is funded through Chipola's Performing Arts Fund, with grants from the National Endowment for the Arts, the Southern Arts Federation, the Florida Division of Cultural Affairs, the Chipola Regional Arts Association and corporate donors.

Williams is new Springs Ambassador

Russell Williams is the new Springs of the Chipola River Ambassador. The job title explains what Williams will be doing on a daily basis, establishing goodwill with landowners in the basin area of Jackson Blue Spring, a first magnitude spring in Marianna and one of only 33 such springs in Florida.

Russell states, “My main job is to get out and build a rapport with landowners so that they will see the need to protect our springs and drinking water.

I’ll be gathering information to promote the knowledge and the need to protect springs and groundwater.”

Williams is a 42 year veteran of the Florida State Park system, a career which began at the Florida Caverns in 1961. From there he worked at Tomoka and Ochokechee River State Parks before returning to Three Rivers State Park in Sneads where he worked from 1969 until June 30, 2003.

“I’ve had an interest in water and nature all my life. I’ve always had a curiosity in the distribution of surface and ground water. Working at the caverns I became interested in water issues.” Williams is employed through the Florida Springs Initiative. The Jackson Blue Spring Basin Working Group directed by one of Chipola College’s science professors, Allan Tidwell, is also funded by the Florida Springs Initiative.

Williams’s first job is to consider farming and development issues and the task of identifying sinkholes in the basin. These sinkholes provide a direct connection to the water that flows out of Blue Springs. Setting up buffers around sinkholes is the best management practice for keeping contaminants out of the spring system. He will be involved with the Jackson County Sinkhole Clean-up Amnesty Program which will give landowners help in cleaning up sinkholes with no strings attached.

He’ll be meeting with landowners to provide education on how their land use practices affect not only the drinking water of their families and the families of their neighbors but also the spring water of Jackson Blue Spring and the other springs in this spring system.

Allan Tidwell remarks, “Russell will be a tremendous asset to our Springs Protection efforts. He is local and well known in the Jackson County community and brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to the table. He will be the “face & feet” in the community for the Jackson Blue Spring Basin Working Group. We in Jackson County have enjoyed our beautiful “Blue Springs” down through time. To insure that future generations have the same opportunity, we must be intentional with regards to protecting what God has blessed us with. To protect the water that flows from springs, we must first protect the land in the spring basin.”

Fill your Christmas stockings with cash

It’s time for the Chipola Bookstore Book Buy Back, and just in time for Christmas. Because of the rough economic times we have made it our goal to buy back $200,000 worth of student textbooks. We have raised our quantities of needed books and broken up package requirements to give more money back to students. This will also provide more used books for the Spring semester. Our Book Buy Back runs Dec. 10-11, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Dec. 12, from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.; and Dec. 15-17, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. You must have a current student ID to sell your books.

The Bookstore’s end of semester celebration is Thursday,

Dec. 11, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. with free hot dogs, chips and drinks. We’ll have drawings for a $20 gift card to Madison’s, Chipola T-shirts, lanyards, key chains, and Kindell Lanes gift certificates for bowling, putt-putt golf and batting cage.

Our buy-back policy provides approximately half of the price originally paid if the instructor is using the same book for the spring semester. Prices will vary depending on the condition of the book. If the book will not be used next semester, students can sell the book to our wholesaler for less than half, or wait for our next book buy back.
