Chipola Blue-Gold Game set for Nov. 1

The Chipola College basketball program will host a Blue-Gold Game, Tuesday, Nov. 1, at 6:30 p.m., in the Milton H. Johnson Health Center.

The free event will begin with a light show and introduction of the men's and women's teams. Fans will enjoy a three-point contest with between the top four shooters on the women's team and the top four shooters from the men's team. Six of the top jumpers on the men's squad will face off in a three-round slam dunk contest. The women's and men's teams will each play short, running-clock scrimmage games. The Indians are the defending state champions and are ranked first in the nation in a pre-season poll by juco-junction.com. The Lady Indians also are the defending state champions.

There is no admission charge; however, donations for hurricane victims will be accepted at the door. Parents also will have the opportunity to register boys and girls, ages 5 to 13, for the Little Indians program.

For information, visit www.chipola.edu

Chipola's 'All My Sons' opens Nov. 3

Tickets for the Chipola College production of "All My Sons," are now on sale in the college Business Office. The Arthur Miller drama opens a four-day run, Nov. 3.

Tickets—$7 for adults and $5 for students—are available weekdays in the college Business Office from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Chipola students and employees get one free ticket.

For courtesy of all theatre patrons, no one under age 5 will be admitted. Recommend age for the subject matter is 14 and up.

"All My Sons" tells the story of Joe Keller, a successful, self-made man who has done a terrible and tragic thing: during World War II, rushing to meet an order from the Army, he knowingly sold them defective airplane parts which later caused the planes to crash and killed 21 men. Miller's powerful and moving work is about the compromises many are forced to make to live in a dishonest world and about a country's irrevocable loss of innocence.

The Chipola production will be entered in the Kennedy Center American College Theater Festival.

For ticket information, call 850-718-2220.
