Apalachicola exhibit premier is Thursday

The public is invited to attend the premier event of "Apalachicola River: An American Treasure," exhibit, Thursday, Sept. 14, at 6 p.m. (CST), in the Chipola College Arts Center.

Casual dress is encouraged, and light refreshments will be served.

The exhibit includes stunning black and white images by landscape photographer Clyde Butcher and captivating day-in-the-life photos of people along the river by photojournalist Richard Bickel. Images from the two photographers comprise a two-volume book set which will be available at the show.

Patrons who attend the premier will hear presentations by the artists and view a screening of the Elam Stoltzfus documentary which shares the same name as the exhibit. Musician and instrument craftsman Sammy Tedder also will share his designs of river cane flutes.

Inspired by the mighty Apalachicola, the exhibit records the history of settlers and Native Americans whose descendants still live in northwest Florida. It is the story of people who make their living from the river; it is the story of politics and water wars between Georgia, Alabama, and Florida. It showcases the haunting beauty of places like the River Styx, Dead Lakes, Kennedy Creek, Chipola River, Spring Creek and Tate's Hell.

The Chipola Area Board of REALTORS® serving Jackson, Washington, Holmes and Calhoun Counties is the major sponsor for the exhibit. The Marianna Automobile Dealers Association, the Jackson County Tourist Development Council and Friends of the Florida Caverns are important sponsors of the exhibit.

Members of the Chipola Regional Arts Association are making arrangements for the exhibit with help from the Artist Guild of Northwest Florida.

The traveling exhibit is managed by the Mary Brogan Museum of Art and Science in Tallahassee. The exhibit will leave Chipola Oct. 12 to travel throughout the American South.

Chipola Artist Series season tickets on sale

Season tickets for the 2006-07 Chipola College Artist Series are on sale in the college Business Office located in Building A.

The four-event series opens Sept. 26 with “The Tallahassee Ballet.” The troupe will present an evening of classical and contemporary dance works performed to the music of Bach, Schubert and Schumann. The program will draw from works by renowned choreographers Danielle Genest, choreographer and dancer from New York City; FSU Department of Dance Professor Rick McCullough; TTB’s Resident Choreographer Dr. Kathryn Cashin, and Henry Hernandez, TTB’s new Artistic Director. Audiences also will enjoy classical favorites such as variations from The Nutcracker and TTB’s new ballet, Beauty and the Beast.

The Fabulous “Limelitters” will perform Nov. 9. The Limelitters launched their career in 1959 at San Francisco’s famous Hungry I and before long, founding members Alex Hassilev, Lou Gottlieb and Glenn Yarbrough emerged as one of the dominant voices of the early 1960’s folk music scene. A string of best selling albums and frequent appearances on every major TV show quickly made them a household name. For three years they were the musical representatives for Coca-Cola, and their rendition of the jingle “Things Go Better with Coke” became a national hit. In addition there were endless tours with standing room only crowds.

Theatre of Illusion comes to Chipola, Jan. 29. For more than a decade, Kevin and Cindy Spencer have dazzled the world with their stage magic and breath-taking illusions.

The Orlando Opera Company presents “Passion, Power, & Peril,” on April 9, 2006. Audiences will experience extraordinary vocal music in this full-featured program, highlighting great classics from Opera, Operetta, and Broadway. Starring Orlando Opera’s resident artists, these young, rising stars bring the magic and power of opera to audiences across Florida.

The Chipola Artist Series is funded through Chipola’s Performing Arts Fund, with grants from the National Endowment for the Arts, the Southern Arts Federation, the Florida Division of Cultural Affairs, the Chipola Regional Arts Association and corporate donors.

Season tickets—$40 for all four events—entitle holders to same seat reserved seats, invitations to the “Meet The Artist” receptions, subscriptions to the CRAA arts calendar, and early ticket-renewal next year. A limited number of individual event tickets—$12 for adults and $8 for ages 18 and under—will be available prior to each performance at the Chipola Business Office.

For season tickets, call the Business Office at 718-2220.
