Instructors' art on display at Chipola

Original works by two of Chipola Junior College's adjunct art instructors are currently on display in the Chipola Arts Center.

Architect Thomas J. Riley, Chipola alumnus, is displaying several stunning sculptures which he created as part of his master thesis on "The influence of Visual Art on Architecture." Pieces in the display include: 'Slicer and Dicer' Mech No.1 of steel, plywood, maple and brass; Day Lily of aluminum, plastic, brass and steel; and Yorick (the king's jester) brass casting (lost wax process).

Photographer Michael Covington is showing photographs which he says, "represent years of photography and countless rolls of film to capture that one special image."

The exhibit will be on display through Oct. 24. Visitors should call the Fine Arts Building at 718-2227 to gain entry to the Arts Center. Group visits are encouraged and may be arranged by contacting Joan Stadskev at 718-2301.

ADOPT A BUDDY

Students In Free Enterprise is seeking CJC students who would like to volunteer one hour a week between 1 and 2:30 p.m. to serve as a reading or math mentor/role model for kindergarten through second grade students at Golson Elementary School in Marianna. If you are interested in this program, contact Kathryn Roberts, SIFE advisor, Building L404C or at ext. 3269.

SIFE NEWS

SIFE has elected their officers for this year: James Elton Allen, president; Jeremy Bennett, vice president; Cindy Dallas, secretary; and Adam Harrison and Kim Temple, reporters.

Activities planned for this semester include participating in the Make A Difference Day, and hosting seminars on maintaining good credit, starting your own business, and home-based businesses. The last meeting of the semester will be a PIZZA Christmas party for all members.

PARKING RULES

Students are allowed to park in any campus spot that has lines and a non-colored curb.

Please be aware that curbs are color-coded: green is for college employees; yellow is no parking; blue is for the handicapped; and red is for fire hydrants.

Last year's yellow CJC decals are expired. Students should purchase a new orange one.

Decals are available in the business office. Remember to bring your vehicle registration and $3.

Prince and the Pauper to entertain children at CJC

More than 1,000 area elementary school children in the five counties served by Chipola will receive a literary treat that is both educational and entertaining on Friday, Oct. 8, when they see Mark Twain's celebrated story, "The Prince and the Pauper," presented by GMT Productions.

The company's performances are sponsored by the Chipola Regional Arts Association (CRAA) and Chipola's Fine and Performing Arts Department. One of CRAA's objectives is to bring quality theatre productions to area children thereby promoting the appreciation and enjoyment of the arts. This 50-minute version of the story adapted by Aurand Harris with music written by Steve Wheaton, is the recipient of the "Distinguished Play Award" presented by the American Alliance for Theatre and Education.

According to Shelley Walker, CRAA President, "positive early cultural experiences create lasting attitudes in young children and the Chipola Regional Arts Association is delighted to sponsor this production in conjunction with the college." Reservations for the shows have been made through the various elementary schools according to Walker.

Chipola Show Choir begins new season

The CJC Show Choir has selected new members for the 1999-2000 season.

Show Choir director Dr. Ed Lyon and choreographer Rebecca Parmer will lead the cast of 16 singers, dancers and technical personnel. Students include: student director Adam Basford (tenor) of Grand Ridge; student choreographer Jake Pooser (tenor) of Marianna; costume coordinator Melanie Hewett (soprano) of Grand Ridge; sound technician Phillip Wynn of Marianna; Meredith Baker (alto) of Marianna; Chris Bishop (baritone) of Cottondale; Jason Cross (tenor) of Iron City, GA; Shannan Goodman (alto) of Blountstown; loading manager Jake Lawson (baritone) of Marianna; Tiffany Nichols (soprano) of Marianna; Ashley Rinck (soprano) of Grand Ridge; Mitch Sims, (baritone) of Marianna; Daniel Tennille (baritone) of Eufaula, AL; Amber Williams (alto) of Panama City; and Kelly Wimberly (soprano) of Marianna.

The Show Choir regularly performs throughout the community. The following performances are scheduled this Fall: Oct. 7, Farm Bureau Annual Meeting; Oct. 22, Jackson County Fair; Oct. 26, Cattlemen's Association Annual Meeting; Nov. 9-10 Regional "Career Fair"; Nov. 12-13 Show Choir Workshop, Daytona Beach; Dec. 2-3 CJC Madrigal Dinners; Dec. 7, Flowers Hospital Christmas Banquet.

To schedule the Show Choir to perform for your group, contact Dr. Ed Lyon at 718-2221.

"Odd Couple" cast announced

CJC Theatre Coordinator, Charles Sirmon has chosen the cast for the upcoming fall production of Neil Simon's "The Odd Couple".

In the title roles of Felix and Oscar are Jaromy Henry of Donaldsonville, GA, as the neat freak Felix, and Matt Lero of Dothan, AL, as the messy Oscar. The zany poker players will be portrayed by Terry Whitaker of Iron City, GA as Roy; Rusty Miller of Ponce de Leon as Vinny; Chris Bishop of Cottondale as Speed; and Josh Smith of Dothan, AL as the cop Murry.

The delightful Pigeon sisters will be played by Casi Parmer of Sneads and Jessica Dean of Marianna. This hit Broadway comedy will be presented Nov. 4 through 6 at 7:30 p.m. and Nov. 7 at 2 p.m. in the CJC Theatre.

Campus forms on Intranet

In order to reduce paperwork and cut down on the use of those old typewriters, the Data Center has put many of the most-used college forms on the Campus Intranet.

To find the form you're looking for, go to Network Neighborhood, choose Chipola1 and open the forms folder. Data Center staffers are more than happy to entertain suggestions for placing other widely used forms on the network.

CJC Workforce Programs always open

Chipola's Workforce Development Division is always open; well, almost always.

The fact is that most Workforce programs feature open enrollment, which means that students may enroll at any time and complete a program at their own pace. Most programs offer excellent job placement potential. Financial aid is available, and remedial assistance is provided. Instructors can tailor a program of study to meet a student's schedule and career goals.

Certificate Programs include: Accounting Applications, Applied Welding Technologies, Automotive Service Technology, Correctional Officer, Computer Electronics Technology, Electronics Technology, Emergency Medical Technician, Grooming & Salon Services, Heating, Air Conditioning & Refrigeration, Law Enforcement, Combination Law Enforcement & Corrections, Office Specialist, Patient Care Assistant, Practical Nursing, Residential Appliance & Refrigeration Repair, and Telecommunications.

Chipola's Office of Continuing Education also offers a number of programs that are ongoing throughout the semester. Participants can learn just for fun or to improve their job performance in a variety of programs ranging from computers to crafts. Continuing Education can also design a custom-made course for your business or special interest group.

For information about any of these programs, call 718-2270.

Law Enforcement Crossover course slated

Correctional officers interested in Cross-over training for employment as a police officers, should contact the Chipola Public Service Division immediately.

Application deadline for the next evening Cross-over academy is Oct. 25. The course begins Nov. 1.

For information, contact Paul Dudley, Assessment Center manager, at (850) 718-2479, or Byron Quivey, Law Enforcement coordinator, at 718-2286

Scholars of London to visit Chipola

The Scholars of London, a classical a cappella vocal quartet, will perform at the Chipola Junior College Theater on Monday, Oct. 11, at 7 p.m.

Hailed as one of the world's musical treasures, The Scholars offer sparkling and entertaining performances of music spanning five centuries. But the show is not music alone, the British quartet is known for their comedic flair. In fact the Albany (NY) Times Union reported that "Chevy Chase would not be out of place as a Scholar, if he had the voice."

The British unaccompanied quartet has given at least 2,500 concerts in more than 50 countries since their debut in 1970, a record which can be rivaled by very few ensembles in the field of chamber music.

They have performed in many of the world's most famous concert halls, from New York's Lincoln Center, London's Royal Festival Hall and the Sydney Opera House to smaller, more intimate venues such as Wigmore Hall in London and the Brahmsaal in Vienna. Their sparkling performances, enlivened by humorous commentary, are acclaimed by critics and audiences alike.

The name "Scholars" derives from the fact that the original members of the group all won scholarships to Cambridge University to sing in the famous choir of King's College Chapel. Thus the Scholars of London began as an all-male ensemble, but as early as 1972 the group changed to include a female voice, adding a new dimension to both sound and repertoire. David van Asch and Robin Doveton are both founding members while Kym Amps and Angus Davidson joined the group in 1983 and 1986 respectively.

But the Scholars don't only work together as a quartet. The Scholars Baroque Ensemble was formed in 1987 for the performance with period instruments of such great works as Bach's "St. John Passion," Monteverdi's "Vespers," Purcell's "The Fairy Queen" and Handel's "Messiah" and "Acis and Galatea," all of which they have recorded on the Naxos label.

Tickets for the CJC performance are $12 for adults and $8 for ages 18 and under. Visit or call the Chipola Book Store at 718-2258.
