Civil War living history is Wednesday at CJC

Chipola will host the Great Civil War Exposition and Living History Show on Wednesday, Feb. 6 in the Arts Center at 10 a.m.

This compelling presentation for schools in the twenty-first century provides a balanced look at America's struggle to survive in 1861. The show is politically sensitive and addresses a student population ripe with diverse ethnic backgrounds.

Civil War Historian Steve Gipson leads the two-man cast. A veteran of historical movies, Gipson has worked with PBS on Civil War related projects. His 30 years of research have uncovered fascinating facts and long-lost gems of curious and forgotten lore that transport students and teachers back to the time of President Lincoln.

Using a museum-quality set filled with Civil War relics, the show presents both the Union and Confederate sides of this very human tragedy. The show explores language, customs, ethnic diversity and the everyday life of the common soldier.

The Chipola Student Activity Fund is offering this production free to the public.

For information, call Nancy Johnson at 718-2314.

Things You Might Not Have Known

There are four types of marriage. Monogamy is one wife, one husband. Polygyny is one husband, several wives. Polyandry is one wife, several husbands. Group marriage is by far the rarest and has never been the prevailing form of marriage in any known society.
